

TRAINING-FOR-TRAINERS & ADVANCED TRAINING-FOR-TRAINERS

Training-For-Trainers (T-4-T) is designed for employees who provide (or will soon begin providing) training and/or presentations to CDCR staff. It covers public speaking; effective use of media, nerve-calming techniques, and methods for handling unexpected classroom disasters. According to DOM 32010.8.1, all CDCR trainers must either possess a teaching credential or take a 24 hour course in training techniques. T-4-T is designed to satisfy that requirement.

Advanced T-4-T is designed for students who have already taken T-4-T and now wish to teach T-4-T to others. Employees receive their Advanced T-4-T certificates by attending a regular T-4-T class and assisting the facilitators.
